

Members, the gentleman from Montgomery County, PA, JON FOX, and others who are joining with us in making this statement.

Mr. Speaker, I would encourage our colleagues to join with us tonight and tomorrow in supporting House Concurrent Resolution 118, to send the right message from this body as to where we stand in terms of full support for a decision that many of us oppose, but now must show that the troops will not be shortchanged when it comes to protecting their lives and their well-being.

□ 2115

FORT BRAGG ATTACKS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. JONES). Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from North Carolina [Mrs. CLAYTON] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mrs. CLAYTON. Mr. Speaker, today I wrote a letter to Attorney General Janet Reno, and I would like to share its contents with my colleagues. I wrote:

I am certain you have heard about the slaying of an African-American couple by three Caucasian soldiers from Fort Bragg in Fayetteville, North Carolina.

These senseless slayings were apparently random, inasmuch as the slain couple was merely walking along a Fayetteville street and the three accused soldiers did not know them. The incident, however, raises new questions about the presence of radical and extreme groups within the United States military.

I must, therefore, urge that a thorough Justice and Defense Department investigation be undertaken.

At least one of the three soldiers held white supremacist views and was known to display a Nazi flag over his barracks bed and to keep a 9mm handgun in his locker. I understand that a bomb-making manual was also found in his room. More disturbingly, all of the suspects appear to be members of a right-wing group called the "Special Forces Underground," which publishes a magazine called the "Resister."

Members of this group have been seen wearing black boots with white laces, red suspenders flight jackets and chains, an unofficial uniform.

I also understand from news sources that the accused soldiers engaged the unsuspecting couple, harassed them and when the couple responded, they were both shot in the head, assassination style.

The brutal and random nature of the slayings has sent a chill throughout Fayetteville and has left many residents puzzled, bewildered and greatly concerned.

Beyond concern, however, are the many questions that are left in the wake of this terrible incident, questions that can only be answered through an official inquiry. We must learn how widespread is the membership of this group.

Is the group confined to Fort Bragg or is it organized in other locations in the Army or other branches of the military? Were superiors at Fort Bragg aware of the activity of this group?

Did these superiors have any advance warning of this group's violent tendencies and could their response have been more swift and effective enough to avoid these killings? If they did not have advance warning or knowledge, why didn't they?

And, are there legitimate policies and practices missing that could discourage these groups? Has the Army worked with local law enforcement and local government to gather intelligence on such groups?

Again, I urge you to take whatever steps are necessary to insure that a Justice and Defense Department investigation is undertaken and that members of Congress are informed of the results of that investigation.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to insert the letter into the RECORD.

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, DC, December 12, 1995.

Hon. JANET RENO,
Attorney General of the United States,
U.S. Department of Justice, Washington, DC.

DEAR ATTORNEY GENERAL RENO: I am certain you have heard about the slaying of an African-American couple by three Caucasian soldiers from Fort Bragg in Fayetteville, North Carolina. These senseless slayings were apparently random, inasmuch as the slain couple was merely walking along a Fayetteville street and the three accused soldiers did not know them. The incident, however, raises new questions about the presence of radical and extreme groups within the United States military. I must, therefore, urge that a thorough Justice and Defense Department investigation be undertaken.

At least one of the three soldiers held white supremacist views and was known to display a Nazi flag over his barracks bed and to keep a 9mm handgun in his locker. I understand that a bomb-making manual was also found in his room. More disturbingly, all of the suspects appear to be members of a right-wing group called the "Special Forces Underground," which publishes a magazine called the "Resister." Members of this group have been seen wearing black boots with white laces, red suspenders, flight jackets and chains, an unofficial uniform.

I also understand from news sources that the accused soldiers engaged the unsuspecting couple, harassed them and when the couple responded, they were both shot, in the head, assassination style. The brutal and random nature of the slayings has sent a chill throughout Fayetteville and has left many residents puzzled, bewildered and greatly concerned.

Beyond concern, however, are the many questions that are left in the wake of this terrible incident, questions that can only be answered through an official inquiry. We must learn how widespread is the membership of this group. Is the group confined to Fort Bragg or is it organized in other locations in the Army or other branches of the military? Were superiors at Fort Bragg aware of the activity of this group? Did these superiors have any advance warning of this group's violent tendencies and could their response have been more swift and effective enough to avoid these killings? If they did not have advance warning or knowledge, why didn't they? And, are there legitimate policies and practices missing that could discourage these groups? Has the Army worked with local law enforcement and local government to gather intelligence on such groups?

Again, I urge you to take whatever steps are necessary to insure that a Justice and Defense Department investigation is undertaken and that members of Congress are informed of the results of that investigation. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Thank you for your consideration and cooperation.

Sincerely,

EVA M. CLAYTON,
Member of Congress.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from California [Mr. RIGGS] is recognized for 5 minutes.

[Mr. RIGGS addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.]

SALUTES TO KWEISI MFUME AND SHIMON PERES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. FOX] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. FOX of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I want to join my colleagues in making a salute to Congressman KWEISI MFUME, a man of great compassion, a great colleague, a champion for civil rights, a man of passion, integrity and resolve who is accepting the new position of head of the NAACP here in the United States. As its new leader, he will take the NAACP to new heights of accomplishment because of his strength of character, his compassion for others, and his dedication to principle. We all wish him well in his new position.

I would also like to make a salute to Shimon Peres who gave a very stirring speech today before a joint session of Congress. I had the opportunity to meet with now the prime minister, then the foreign minister of Israel this summer in a special congressional delegation visit, only to see his leadership, his vision, his perseverance, his love of Israel and his love of America.

As Prime Minister Shimon Peres said today, he was speaking of his fallen comrade Yitzhak Rabin, he said they "were always firm believers in the greatness of America, in the ethnic generosity inherent in our history and our people. For us, the United States of America is a commitment to values before an expression of might."

He continued by stating that Israel is a small land, 47 years old, but 4000 years deep in history. Before coming here to the United States, Prime Minister Peres visited King Hussein. They discussed the possibilities of transforming the Jordan River Valley which is, in fact, an elongated, extended desert into a Tennessee Valley. He then met with President Mubarak of Egypt in a highly congenial atmosphere. They agreed to put aside bitter memories and to postpone certain disputed issues for a future date.

He finally met with Chairman Arafat of the PLO and his expression of condolence had the ring of a sincere desire for peace.

What is next for Israel? Peace with Syria and Lebanon, the two remaining adversaries on Israel's borders. Peace with these two countries may well prove to be the greatest contribution to the construction of a new Middle East peace.

In Shimon Peres' own words, he said the following:

Nothing would capture the imagination of young people everywhere than a gathering